Presents

Leadership & Teambuilding In the 21st Century October 23-25, 2018 Ga. Army National Guard 100 Aquatic Cir, Cumming, GA 30040

A leadership pandemic is sweeping the American Fire Service. The result is increased litigation, liability, injury and even death to firefighters and civilians alike. Gross inefficiency, ineffectiveness and tarnished public trust are just some of the results of this enormous problem. Join us for a high-impact, fun and hilarious day as we dissect:

- Risk Management
- Keys to Real-World Motivation
- Effective Communications
- Time Management & Boundaries
- Problem Solving
- Conflict Resolution & Dynamic Role Plays
- Empowerment
- The "Oreo Factor"
- Succession Planning
- Blind Spots

This workshop throws out the book on technical jargon and useless theory. We tell it like it is from real-world experience in busy fire houses, battalions, and historical events:

- The "Old Salt", The "Y" Generation, The "Recliner Jockey" and other Personalities
- Battalion and Crew Size Up
- The "Adult Conversation"
- Pre-Loading Audibles for Conflict Resolution
- We All Need Grace
- Why Are WE Here? Why Are YOU Here?
- Not Everyone Gets to Run with the Ball
- Case Studies in Chaos and Dysfunction
- The Modern Generation Gap
- The "Village Idiot" (Bless their Heart!)

You've probably never seen a defensive unit of a football team boo their own offense while on the field, but this takes place every day in the fire service. A Shift boos B Shift, Engine 1 boos Engine 5, and the line boos the admin. Learn how to get past it and reach the collective potential of the team.

Anthony Kastros is a 31-year fire service veteran and battalion chief with the Sacramento Metro Fire District, CA.
